

New London Illuminated Bollard

Our designers crafted the modern lines of the New London Illuminated Bollard using glass fiber reinforced concrete (GFRC), a material known for its strength and durability. It will hold up under heavy impact and nearly any weather condition. It's pictured here in stone finish, but we also offer concrete finish. No matter which look you choose, we provide a range of color options to complement any building or landscape. Our New London Illuminated Bollard can be lit using the lighting method of your choice - ask our experienced consultants for more info on lighting options.
