

American Trails: Making Fitness Fun

Making Trails More Family Friendly

Walkways and trails are meant to be areas where families can enjoy fresh air, exercise and fun together.

The 4 Kids is committed to encouraging families and communities to be more active together. The products we offer are designed to entice children to climb and play as they enjoy trails, paths and parks with their families. Our products are meant for constant use and are a great way to make an ordinary walk something extraordinary.

Our play products are created with fun, physical activity and education in mind. The 4 Kids shares common family values to promote and create products that will get kids moving and learning while doing so. Trails instantly become more exciting when there is a dinosaur or tree house just around the corner. Every walk becomes a journey of discovery and exploration, making it the ideal pastime for the whole family.

We are dedicated to improving family fitness and bonding time. Give us a call today and we will be happy to assist you in choosing the right playground structures to add fun to your trails.
