

Large Ammonite Fossil Dig

Your little ones will feel like real archaeologists as they brush the sand away to find a Large Ammonite Fossil buried beneath. What fun they will have excavating a realistic looking fossil. Children are curious, natural explorers, and this activity will bring that out in them. This is the perfect hands-on learning experience to have in the classroom, a children's museum, and even the zoo. Expand their education and excitement with firsthand science. Want to have one, two, or thirty fossils hidden beneath the sand? The quantity and type of fossil are up to you. Check out our other fossil dig items to see what else the kids can unearth.
