

Nautilus Stone Bubbler

Add a unique water feature to your park, and everyone will have fun. This is a great addition to any splash pad or as a surround for the city fountain. This beautiful water feature is hand crafted from glass fiber reinforced concrete, and is made to last with minimal maintenance. The best thing about this material is that it can be crafted to resemble just about any texture, so when it comes to mimicking the looks of fossils, it can't be beat. We can make these any size you would like, and any color. The water bubbles from the center, but can spray out if you'd like. The Nautilus Stone Bubbler is great piece for toddlers who can sit on the ground and play with the water while their big siblings run around the splash pad. Add something original to your water playscape.
