Classically Early American in style and design, this heavy duty sign structure from The 4 Kids Greenville, Texas studios is eye catching as well as impressive wherever it is located. Available as tall as 3, 4, 5 or 6 feet, the familiar notched arch feature attracts attention from visitors to locations that include shops to shrines, clinics to courthouses, fire stations to film studios. The possibilities are as many and varied as the messages this exceptional sign structure can convey. For an extra measure of flair and panache, the sign form may be mounted on a brick base that adds an extra foot and a half to its height. Virtually indestructible in any kind of weather, The 4 Kids signage display is crafted from glass fiber reinforced concrete, known as the smart concrete for it's tough resilience in rain, snow, ice and even the salt spray of the sea. High quality construction and a high degree of excellence in design ensures that property owners will be delighted with The 4 Kids custom designed sign structures for every purpose.
