

Tomato Sculpture

To-MAY-to.
To-MAH-to. No matter how you say it, this Tomato Sculpture looks good enough to eat. This photo shows it in the delish-looking realistic finish, but we can also do translucent finish, which can be lit from the inside for a cool after-dark look. Like all our indoor - outdoor sculptures, this is constructed from material with an established reputation for maintaining its texture and color, even under harsh weather conditions. Display it with our other food sculptures, like the Green Bell Pepper or Garlic, for a food-tastic look.
